

Sensible and practical solutions for property asset management

Pragmatik Property Limited is a small property consultancy that is dedicated to providing sensible and practical operational property solutions. My aim is to provide solutions that work and deliver results that make a difference. I focus heavily on the value proposition to ensure that my clients realise solid benefits from my cost effective advice and services.

With 10 years' experience gained in both tenant and landlord representation along with experience within public, private, commercial and industrial properties I am able to provide a well-rounded and considered service.

My aim is to allow my clients to focus on their core business while I manage their property obligations and problems.
